PCPC and Members Advance Industry Priorities During New York Lobby Day

What's happening: On February 9–10, PCPC and member company representatives met with New York policymakers during our Lobby Day in Albany. The meetings included robust discussions on industry priority bills to restrict ingredients, set inconsistent levels for trace impurities, and create a new EPR scheme.

Why it matters: New York is an extremely important state to the cosmetics and personal care products industry. Our sector employs over 273,000 New Yorkers and provides more than $23 billion to the state's GDP. In the greater New York City area, the cosmetics and personal care products industry directly and indirectly generated $11.8 billion in labor income and 193,450 jobs. Many cosmetic and personal care companies call New York State home.

Bottom line: We will continue to work with New York State legislators to advocate for amendments to harmonize the bills with recently enacted laws, moving a step closer to global regulatory alignment.

PCPC Leads MoCRA Compliance Dialogue at Cosmoprof North America Miami

What's happening: PCPC led the MoCRA in Practice: Navigating FDA Regulations and Requirements panel at Cosmoprof North America Miami.

Why it matters: Panelists shared the latest on FDA requirements—from labeling and safety substantiation to adverse event reporting—along with clarity on key obligations and exemptions under MoCRA.

Bottom line: PCPC supported the landmark legislation and remains appreciative of Congress's efforts and FDA's continued implementation.

Look Good Feel Better Foundation Marks World Cancer Day with Social Media Campaign

What's happening: World Cancer Day is a moment for the global Look Good Feel Better (LGFB) community to come together to raise awareness about the importance of support and emotional well-being during a cancer journey. On this day each year, LGFB launches a social media campaign to share this message. On February 4, LGFB launched a digital World Cancer Day campaign, "United in our goals. Unique in our global mission: Every story matters. Every moment of confidence counts," alongside LGFB affiliates worldwide.

Why it matters: This year's response demonstrates that supportive care continues to resonate with patients, their caregivers, and communities, and how LGFB does its part to care for the whole person through diagnosis, treatment, and recovery.

Bottom line: The campaign reinforces the importance of LGFB and highlights how member company products and support deliver value, deeper engagement, and lasting impact for LGFB and the communities it serves.

Streamline The Certificate of Free Sales (CFS) Process With PCPC's CFS Service

What's happening: Cosmetic and personal care product companies exporting products from the U.S. are often required by foreign regulatory authorities to provide a Certificate of Free Sale (CFS) to import products into their markets.

Why it matters: A CFS attests that the product you are exporting to another country is identical to the product sold in the U.S. and that it has been manufactured according to all applicable laws. This assures foreign authorities that the product is safe and effective.

Bottom line: Use PCPC's CFS service, a member-exclusive benefit, to streamline and simplify the CFS process for your company.
